

Directions: This list of words can be used as cards in a game format, independent or group center work, within a Kagan structure, etc. Students should underline root words and box in prefixes or suffixes. They should say or write an operational definition (own words/not dictionary) for the word using the meanings of the prefixes and suffixes as support. (For example, an operational definition of "thoughtlessness" could be "the state of being without thought." This is a review activity.
