

- Verse 1: Sentences! Sentences!
Four kinds of sentences exist:
exclamatory, declarative,
interrogative, and imperative.
- Verse 2: I declare. I declare.
Farmer Brown's goat is over there.
Declarative sentences give information.
There's nothing exciting in their translation.
- Verse 3: Imperative, imperative,
I gave a command; that's what I did.
Put the book over there on the table.
Go to the kitchen, and help your Aunt Mabel.
- Verse 4: I exclaim! I exclaim!
Exclamatory sentences excite to proclaim.
I won first prize at the county fair!
My little brother just cut his own hair!
- Verse 5: Interrogative, interrogative,
Questions with answers you must give:
Who? What? When? Where? Why? and How?
Answer these questions right here and right now!
