

Identifying Prepositions

Prepositions come at the beginning of prepositional phrases. Prepositional phrases usually tell where or when an action is happening.

In the sentences below, underline the prepositional phrases you see. Circle the preposition at the beginning of each prepositional phrase.

Jamen read the exciting book during the weekend.

Isabel and Elizabeth hunted for colorful Easter eggs in the park.

Josh ran around the prickly bush and through the gate.

Thomas saw bright, twinkling stars in the dark sky.

Renee rode in the small, red car to the store at 3:00pm.

Olivia wore her new, red dress to the fancy party.

Abbey, McKenna, and Kat read their books under the shady tree.

Kevin and Patrick walked through the creepy hallway, down the broken stairway, and out the door.

Noah ran around the enormous tree, under the monkey bars, through the dark tunnel, and past the slippery slide.

Allie was so happy she ran around the classroom and jumped on the table!

Timmy hid under the table, behind the blue curtain, and inside the toy box.

Mrs. Corbett jumped off the diving board and into the water!

When identifying prepositions and finding prepositional phrases, I feel:

_____ confident _____ unsure _____ I need more help.

Answer Key:

Jamen read the exciting book during the weekend.

Isabel and Elizabeth hunted for colorful Easter eggs in the park.

Josh ran around the prickly bush and through the gate.

Thomas saw bright, twinkling stars in the dark sky.

Renee rode in the small, red car to the store at 3:00pm.

Olivia wore her new, red dress to the fancy party.

Abbey, McKenna, and Kat read their books under the shady tree.

Kevin and Patrick walked through the creepy hallway, down the broken stairway, and out the door.

Noah ran around the enormous tree, under the monkey bars, through the dark tunnel, and past the slippery slide.

Allie was so happy she ran around the classroom and jumped on the table!

Timmy hid under the table, behind the blue curtain, and inside the toy box.

Mrs. Corbett jumped off the diving board and into the water!