

Idiom Match

Idioms are phrases in the English language that have a different meaning from the words being said. For example, if it is "raining cats and dogs," it is raining very hard. There really are no cats or dogs!

Cut apart the cards below. Place them face down on a table. Take turns with a partner turning over two cards to find a match. Your match will state an idiom and match it with its true meaning.

| | |
|--|---------------------------------|
| It's raining cats and dogs! | It's time to go to bed! |
| You are barking up the wrong tree! | This cake is out of this world! |
| You crack me up! | It's just icing on the cake! |
| You are really bothering me. | It's raining very hard! |
| This cake is delicious! | You are driving me crazy! |
| You are asking the wrong person or looking in the wrong place. | I am about to toss my cookies! |
| It's just one more good thing on top of other good things. | It's time to hit the sack! |
| My stomach does not feel good! I might even throw up! | You made me laugh! |

Idiom Match Answer Key

It's raining cats and dogs! - It's raining very hard!

You are barking up the wrong tree! - You are asking the wrong person or looking in the wrong place.

I'm about to toss my cookies! - My stomach doesn't feel good!
I might even throw up!

It's just icing on the cake! - It's one more good thing on top of other good things!

You are driving me crazy! - You are really bothering me!

This cake is out of this world! - This cake is delicious!

It's time to hit the sack! - It's time to go to bed.

You crack me up! - You made me laugh!