

Using Conjunctions _____

Directions: Combine the pairs of sentences by using a conjunction. Write your new sentence neatly on the line provided.

and

but

or if so

because

Today, I could go to the beach.

Today, I could go to the lake.

My mom said I could go to my friend's house.

She said I had to clean my room first.

I enjoy eating pasta with sauce at the Olive Garden.

I love to eat garlic bread at the Olive Garden the most!

I had to finish my math.

I wanted to play outside.

I did not get a good grade on my report card.

I had trouble on my science test.

My friend could not come out to play.

I read a book instead.

Using Conjunctions Answer Key

Directions: Combine the pairs of sentences by using a conjunction. Write your new sentence neatly on the line provided.

and

but

or

if

so

because

Today, I could go to the beach.

Today, I could go to the lake.

Today, I could go to the beach, or I could go to the lake.

My mom said I could go to my friend's house.

She said I had to clean my room first.

My mom said I could go to my friend's house if I clean my room first.

I enjoy eating pasta with sauce at the Olive Garden.

I love to eat garlic bread at the Olive Garden the most!

I enjoy eating pasta with sauce at the Olive Garden, but I love to eat garlic bread the most!

I had to finish my math.

I wanted to play outside.

I had to finish my math if I wanted to play outside.

I did not get a good grade on my report card.

I had trouble on my science test.

I did not get a good grade on my report card because I had trouble on my science test.

My friend could not come out to play.

I read a book instead.

My friend could not come out to play, so I read a book instead.
